

Hollywood Needs You!

The Hollywood Theater is operated by the Friends of the Hollywood Theater (FOHT), a not-for-profit organization. The nearly 300-seat Hollywood Theater is located in the heart of downtown Dormont at 1449 Potomac Avenue.

Originally opened as a theater in 1933, the Hollywood Theater is one of the last surviving single-screen movie houses in the Pittsburgh area. Recently renovated, it features a balcony, a large concession area, and a lobby with spacious comfortable seating. It is handicap accessible.

The Hollywood Theater shows an eclectic mix of movies and events for all ages and interests and is run by volunteers.

Want to be a volunteer? It's easy; get to the theater 30 minutes before the movie starts. Sell tickets and concession stand items. Once the movie begins, you can go in and watch the movie for free! After the movie is over, throw away any trash left behind and shut down the concession stand. Each volunteer shift is about 3 – 3 ½ hours.

We are looking for PACC Hab staff and clients to do this together. It builds job skills and self confidence in a real work setting. Please contact Wendy at wjankowski@paconnectingcommunities.org for more information or to sign up as a volunteer.
